Personal Profile

I began my professional career in 1991, after graduating with my BA in Secondary Education. For seventeen years I pursued teaching and administrating. Following the birth of my children, I became more interested in health and transitioned into a job at the Department of Public Health. Initially, I worked for a program funded by First 5 Riverside (Loving Support). My responsibilities included writing and executing curriculums for Lunch and Learns for pediatric and obstetrics offices. My position evolved to include breastfeeding research, operating the breastfeeding warm line, and teaching prenatal classes. In 2008, I sat for and passed the IBLCE Exam. Many of my coworkers desired to become Lactation Consultants, so I determined to write a course to prepare them to sit for the exam the following year. Based on my initial pilot program with my colleagues, I wrote the Grow Our Own Lactation Consultant/IBCLC Prep Course, which has been used to train hundreds of individuals to become IBCLCs.

When IBLCE changed the requirements for certification, I sought an additional outlet to train individuals in the area of lactation. I found many people desired to work in the field, but were limited until they received extensive education and clinical hours. The Certified Lactation Educator Course (CLE™) was a perfect outlet for me to train people on the ground level and mentor them if they desired to pursue the IBCLC Certification. I became a Childbirth and Postpartum Professional (CAPPa) faculty member in 2011, and enjoy introducing breastfeeding advocates to a program that prepares them to be effective peer counselors, educators and group facilitators.

I founded Birthing, Bonding and Breastfeeding and the subsidiary organization, 3B Publishing, in 2010, to publish breastfeeding literature and offer unique breastfeeding educational tools. My children's book, Mommy Feeds Baby, has sold over 10,000 copies and Lactation Lanyards™ (teaching aids) are being used internationally in hospitals and WIC clinics to demonstrate the newborn's stomach capacity.

Currently, I work for the Department of Public Health part time, teaching prenatal classes and facilitating a free breastfeeding clinic. I also volunteer as a birth doula and have a private practice as a Lactation Consultant. I am a trainer for the CAPPa CLE Program, and as time permits, I accept speaking engagements at breastfeeding conferences. I live in southern California with my husband of twenty years and our three wonderful children.
